NEW TABOO SERIES

Jesus could have gone about his business as a lone ranger. He could have saved, redeemed, healed, and set people free all on his own. However, Jesus chose to invite followers to join him in the spread of redemption because he values partnership. It's a reflection of the heart of God from the very beginning. If we want to join Jesus in his desire to save and redeem the world, Christians in the 21st century must fight hard to love the world as God loves it, value people the way He values people, and step into the brokenness of the world instead of running from it. In our new series called Taboo, I will work to offer hope, help, and equipping for the church to be: A) a place of healing, and B) a powerful force in the world.
